When companies need strategic advice on business transactions, planning or management, they turn to Fabiola Valenzuela, who has the knowledge and experience to help them make the right choices. Fabiola concentrates her practice on structuring, negotiating and documenting business transactions and has represented emerging companies and investors throughout the corporate life cycle across a number of industries.

Fabiola advises investors and companies on a variety of matters, including company formations, mergers and acquisitions, venture capital financings and corporate governance.

An active pro bono practice

Fabiola commits to giving back to her community. While at Katten, she has maintained an active pro bono practice and represents minors in federal immigration and deportation matters.

In addition, Fabiola received her JD from the University of Chicago Law School, where she was the alumni relations chair for the Latino Law Students' Association and an advocate on behalf of children for the Young Center for Immigrant Children's Rights, an organization that protects and champions the rights of immigrant children.

Before joining Katten, she worked as an associate at a major international law firm. Fabiola received her BA with honors from the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

"I am always impressed with the speed, quality and value of the work Fabiola provides. She is my first call for emerging company work."
