PATENT LITIGATION

Our Clients

Katten's Patent Litigation team represents both plaintiffs and defendants in patent infringement actions filed in federal jurisdictions throughout the United States and before the US Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO) and the US International Trade Commission (ITC). Our clients come from a variety of industries, including biotechnology, pharmaceuticals, life sciences, electronics, software, e-commerce and telecommunications.

Our Services

Our attorneys have litigated virtually every type of patent infringement case. Significant parts of our practice involve pharmaceutical patents—we have litigated more than 100 pharmaceutical cases—and electronics/hardware/software/mechanical patents—we have litigated more than 70 such cases.

We have substantial experience representing our clients in multi-defendant cases, including those filed by non-practicing entities. As a result, we know many successful strategies for defending those cases at minimal cost with excellent results. Our litigators routinely defend patent infringement actions in the jurisdictions that are the most popular with patent holding companies, including the Eastern and Northern Districts of Texas, the District of Delaware, the Eastern District of Virginia, the Northern District of Illinois, and the Northern, Central and Southern Districts of California. Our team's track record in the US Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit is exceptional. For example, in recent years we have secured four decisions from the Federal Circuit invalidating patents asserted against our clients; three of those were pharmaceutical patent cases.

When necessary, we participate in filing international patent infringement actions to protect our clients' businesses in the United States and in foreign jurisdictions. We have also initiated inter partes and ex parte reexaminations and inter partes review of issued US patents in the USPTO and Patent Trial and Appeal Board (PTAB). In addition, we work to minimize the disruptive effects of patent litigation by developing preemptive solutions such as assessing patent claims and helping clients to design around patents.

"They are extremely responsive, creative thinkers and they are very cost-aware."
