Through a strategic alliance with our Corporate and White Collar practices, we provide sound counsel on minimizing and remediating compliance risk. We help clients develop, evaluate and update corporate compliance programs and policies, performing compliance program reviews to identify and close gaps with compliance best practices and advising boards of directors on their compliance oversight responsibilities. When compliance issues arise, we assist clients with internal investigations and self-reporting strategies. Our strong working relationships and credibility with federal and state enforcement agencies enable us to successfully navigate government investigations and corporate integrity and deferred prosecution agreements. We have extensive experience negotiating equitable settlements with government agencies and whistleblowers and an excellent track record of defending clients in qui tam litigation.

We work closely with clients to structure their transactions and physician relationships, contracts and business strategies and relationships with physicians and other referral sources to comport with regulatory parameters including the Stark Law, Anti-Kickback Statute and False Claims Act as well as self-referral prohibitions and reimbursement requirements. Our attorneys identify compliance issues during the due diligence phase of health care transactions and counsel clients on how to address any risks revealed during this process. We proactively analyze the regulatory implications of proposed transactions, helping to restructure them when necessary to minimize regulatory risk.
